

TWIN BABIES.

THE FOND PAPA.

Oh! give me both the darling kids to love, caress and pet;
My son shall be called Romeo my daughter Juliet;
Such marvels of intelligence I'm sure I never saw:
They weigh eleven pounds apiece and look just like their pa.

To YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND, Twin Babies are always interesting. Romeo and Juliet are especially interesting to us because they have always been washed with "Ocean Bath" Toilet Soap, (which is one of the many kinds of fine toilet soap that we give gratis in The GREAT CHRISTMAS BOX "Sweet Home" Family Soap). We call them Romeo and Juliet because that is not their names, for when their mamma consented for us to use their picture, she made us promise not to divulge their real names, but they are the funniest, tootsey-wootseyest, catchee-catchee, little dimpled darlings you ever saw. Their mamma (we will show you her picture, too, some day) says they require so much looking-after, that if it were not for the help of "Boraxine" (which is given gratis with every GREAT CHRISTMAS BOX of "Sweet Home" Soap) she could never keep her house in order.

Every family cannot have twins, but they can all have "Sweet Home" Family Soap, which most families for a good many reasons would probably prefer.

Send us your name on a postal card and we will deliver a case of "Sweet Home" Family Soap containing the 100 cakes and all of the articles named in the following list on terms given below.

Father Knows.

A gentleman was one day opening a box of goods. His little son was standing near, and as his father took the packages from the box he laid them upon the arm of the boy.

A young friend and playmate of the merchant's son was standing by looking on. As parcel after parcel was laid upon the arm of the boy, his friend began to fear his load was becoming too heavy, and said:

"Johnny, don't you think you've got as much as you can bear?"

"Never mind," answered Johnny in a happy tone; "father knows how much I can carry."

Brave, trusting little fellow! He did not grow restless or impatient under the burden. There was no danger, he felt that his father would lay too heavy a load on him, his father knew his strength, or rather the weakness of that little arm, and would not overtask it. More than all, his father loved him, and would not harm him. It is such a spirit of loving trust in him that God desires all his children to possess.

God's Light a Steady Light.

I sincerely fear that some of the religion of the present day is what we might call a moonshine religion: which is ruled by a light that has no more stability or vital warmth about it than the light of the moon, a light which can never bring life and immortality to light, because it lacks the gospel power; a light that can never shine more and more to the perfect day; because it waxes old and changes; and is forever ebbing and flowing like the waves of the sea; a light which is only reflected, by spells, from the unchangeable and everlasting light, the Son of righteousness. Christ is the unchangeable light of the world. And they that are ruled by him and follow him, will not walk in darkness (spiritually) because their life and light is everlasting, and "cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variableness, neither shadow of turning;" but is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

As a family medicine, Ayer's Pills excel all others. They are suited to every age, and being sugar-coated, are easy to take. Though searching and thorough in effect, they are mild and pleasant in action, and their use is attended with no injurious results.

What Smoking Does For Boys.

A medical man, struck with the large number of boys under fifteen years of age whom he observed smoking, was led to inquire into the effect the habit had upon the general health. He took for his purpose thirty-eight, aged from nine to fifteen, and carefully examined them. In twenty-seven he discovered injurious traces of the habit. In twenty-two there were various disorders of the circulation and digestion, palpitation of the heart and a more or less taste for strong drinks. In twelve there were frequent bleedings of the nose, ten had disturbed sleep, and twelve had slight ulceration of the mucus membrane of the mouth, which disappeared on ceasing the use of tobacco for some days.

The doctor treated them all for weakness, but with little effect until the smoking was discontinued, when health and strength were soon restored.

Some people are just as cross as a bear, they snap your head off when you happen to open your mouth. We cannot excuse them, for they have bad colds, which makes them irritable, and are too mean to buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which would restore their good nature.
